Please feel free to forward this invitation to anyone on your team who may be interested in learning more about the Tires/Salmon issue outlined far below. – Elizabeth

Agenda

- Welcome and Introductions (5 min)
- Tires/Salmon – issue summary from Catherine Gockel (R10) and Heather Goss (OWM) (10 min)
  - Q&A (5 min)
- Updates from HQ (5 min)
- Updates from Regions (15 min)
- Wrap up (5 min)

SUMMARY OF TIRES/SALMON ISSUE

The EPA R10 Puget Sound Program has been supporting cutting edge stormwater and toxics research for many years now. To frame this up,

- In December of 2020, there was a flurry of international media attention to a paper authored by a Puget Sound research team and published in the journal Science.
- The research linked coho salmon death to a newly discovered chemical degradation product from tire particles in stormwater.
- There are many unknowns, including how long it lasts in the environment, if it leaches from recycled tire products (like playfields), and if it is toxic to other (non-salmonid) species. Does this chemical impact humans? Is 6ppd-quinone in our drinking water? Is it harmful to breathe? Nobody knows yet- we don't even have approved analytical methods to monitor for it.

Here's the bad news: 6ppd-quinone is acutely toxic to coho salmon, is ubiquitous in tires across the country, and no substitute has been identified yet. This is not just a Pacific Northwest issue. Tire wear particles are one of the most substantial microplastics sources to freshwaters. 85% in San Francisco Bay.

The good news: bioinfiltration like rain gardens successfully remove 6ppd-quinone from stormwater- producing water that is non-toxic to coho. California and Washington State are starting work to identify a safer alternative.

This research has many implications for EPA- Analytical method development, toxicology, avoiding a regrettable substitution to something just as toxic, water program, etc. Smart Sectors could help EPA convene and lead on this emerging issue.

EJ Visit Mini Planning Retreat -- Microsoft Teams Meeting (In Office Location - Alm Room)

Hi All,

Given how quickly the Administrator's visit is coming up and the scale of it, we thought it important to set aside a chunk of time early on the planning process to hash out and discuss items that will inform immediate, concrete next steps. I know the timing isn't ideal and may not work for all of you, but for those in the DC area, there will be a conference room set up for us to meet in person, with food and drinks provided. There is also a Teams room available for those unable to be in the office.

An agenda for the meeting will be sent early next week, but please come prepared to discuss the responses to the initial asks we sent out. As a reminder, the document with all the questions can be found on the Teams site.

Thanks again for making yourselves available for this planning session.

David, attached are materials for next Tuesday's EFO event and travel. You have had 2 prebriefs for this speech, on these dates:

- Wednesday, September 29, 11:30 am – Brownfields Prebrief
- Monday, October 4, 11:30 am – SF Redevelopment/Ready for Reuse

Attached are:

- Talking Points
- EFO Conference Agenda
- Memo – includes a list of potential places to visit in Tulsa (Greenwood District)
- Travel Reservation Itinerary
- Concur Travel Reservation/Receipt,
- Approved TA

Two flags on the TPs:

1. We'd talked about possibly including an update on the infrastructure bill with your intro, and the TPs have some optional high-level bullets there. However, there is more than enough material to cover for Brownfields and Redevelopment/RfR alone.
2. In the RfR prebrief, we'd discussed highlighting both 4th Street and (b) (5) as sites for potential RfR use. Per the program - 4th Street is already in reuse, so RfR may not be a useful tool there. Only (b) (5) has been added to the TPs.

Management Time- EFO Prep

David, attached are updated materials for next Tuesday's EFO event and travel. The Brownfields program is planning some virtual Brownfields engagements for December, to keep the momentum going, and we've added a note on that along with the postponement.

Prebrief dates:

- Wednesday, September 29, 11:30 am – Brownfields Prebrief
- Monday, October 4, 11:30 am – SF Redevelopment/Ready for Reuse

Attached are:

- Talking Points
- EFO Conference Agenda
- Memo – includes a list of potential places to visit in Tulsa (Greenwood District)
- Travel Reservation Itinerary
- Concur Travel Reservation/Receipt,
- Approved TA

Flags on the TPs:

1. We'd talked about possibly including an update on the infrastructure bill with your intro, and the TPs have some optional high-level bullets there. However, there is more than enough material to cover for Brownfields and Redevelopment/RfR alone.
2. In the RfR prebrief, we'd discussed highlighting both 4th Street and  as sites for potential RfR use. Per the program - 4th Street is already in reuse, so RfR may not be a useful tool there. Only  has been added to the TPs.
